

JD Edwards specialist award-winning Oracle partner

Whitehouse Consultants, founded in 1991, was instrumental in helping JD Edwards establish its business in Europe and was appointed the first Partner in the UK in 1992. Now an Oracle Certified Advantage Partner, Whitehouse still concentrates solely on JD Edwards solutions.

Whitehouse is an Oracle partner, selling and implementing JD Edwards industry solutions for small and medium sized businesses. Our software and services provide everything you'll need for the lifetime of your solution.

We work at the heart of the Oracle Accelerate program: the way forward for fast-growing businesses that want to maximise their budgets and quickly achieve business value. The focus is on rapid implementation which, in turn, ensures a rapid return on investment. The Oracle Accelerate program provides a wide range of industry-specific modules, incorporating best practice functionality and processes for a specific industry sector. Purchase and implement only those applications that make sense for your business today. As needs change, simply extend functionality or implement new application modules.

Our mission is to accelerate and maintain the return on investment in an ERP solution. We call this 'unlocking the value' of your system and we maintain this focus at all stages of the system's lifecycle. We consider:

- The quality of the solution
- Reduction of risks, delays, and costs
- The upkeep of the solution
- Solution durability
- Transfer of competence
- Options for solution enhancement

Our reputation is based on our industry-sector expertise and the quality and experience of our consultants. Our consultants have extensive business experience as well as JD Edwards' product knowledge. Our experience and our methodology allow us to manage your projects and international deployments wherever they may be.

Whitehouse focuses on a single goal: finding the solution that works best for each customer's unique circumstances. Our competencies include full life cycle projects, upgrades, migrations and implementation of specific modules as well as the technical infrastructure to support them.

In Oracle's 2008 performance awards, Whitehouse Consultants was recognised as a Top Performing Oracle Accelerate Partner - the only UK reseller of JD Edwards solutions. Oracle selects partners for the Accelerate program who have a proven history of delivering solutions to a customer's specific industry and geography.
